

Ten Things to Do With a Wooden Spoon

1. Wooden Spoon Wild Animals

Turn an old wooden spoon into your favourite wild animal. It could become a tiger, giraffe or zebra! You will need acrylic paint, felt tips, craft foam or card, googly eyes, buttons, pipe cleaners, wool and glue. How many different wild animals can you make?

2. Wooden Spoon Family

Decorate some old wooden spoons using paint, felt tips, scraps of fabric, buttons and wool to make a delightful wooden spoon family. Make up adventures for your spoon family or create a family role play.

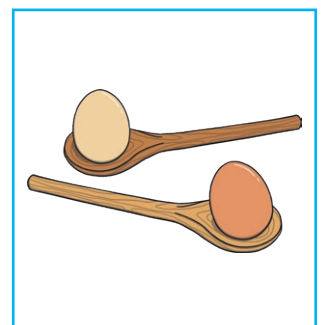

3. Vegetable Plant Markers

Make some colourful plant markers for your vegetable patch using old wooden spoons. Use acrylic paints or felt tip pens to draw a vegetable on each spoon and add a label. Coat with clear outdoor varnish, if you have some, to make them weatherproof.

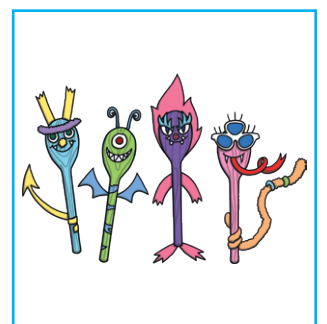

4. Egg and Spoon Game

Balance a satsuma or hard-boiled egg on a wooden spoon to play this fun family game. You could race in the garden or even up and down the stairs!

5. Wooden Spoon Monster

Let your imagination run wild and turn some old wooden spoons into very scary monsters! Use acrylic paint, card, pipe cleaners and any other craft materials you can find. You can use polystyrene balls or bottle tops for eyes. What will your monsters get up to?

6. Wooden Spoon Fairy Tale Characters

Transform a wooden spoon into your favourite fairy tale character using acrylic paint, felt tip pens, fabric and any other craft materials you have at home. Why not use your fairy tale character spoons to tell a story or use them in puppet show?

7. Mud Cakes

Make a fantastic mixture of mud, leaves, water and any other natural items in an old container and stir it all up with an old wooden spoon. Spoon some of the mixture into paper cup cases and decorate with leaves.

8. Wooden Spoon Drum

Make some noise with a wooden spoon and a saucepan or upturned bucket! What other instruments can you make?

9. Wooden Spoon Superheroes

Who is your favourite superhero? Transform an old wooden spoon into a superhero using paint, felt tips, fabric and any other craft materials that you have. What adventures will your superhero have?

10. Wooden Spoon Balloon Tennis

This fun game can be played indoors or outside. Use a wooden spoon to hit a balloon back and forth between two or more players.
